

For Immediate Release

For media inquiries, please call:
Michelle C. Davis – 336-299-9200
September 23, 2008

Wine Tasting Benefit
at The Village at North Elm

Greensboro, NC – The Village at North Elm proudly presents the 2nd Annual “Fall Frolic” Wine Tasting Fundraiser to benefit Friends for An Earlier Breast Cancer Test, a project dedicated to finding a biological marker for cancer in the very earliest stages. This event is sponsored by Koury Corporation and TomorrowOnly.com.

The Fall Frolic will feature North Carolina wines, Natty Greene’s beer, great food, and live music. Wine enthusiasts will be able to sample a variety of North Carolina wines while enjoying a delicious array of foods provided by local food establishments. Live music throughout the evening will be performed by Sleeping Booty, a 10 piece, high energy dance band with an energetic and loyal following. This year we will also have a guest emcee, Angie Ward, from WTQR!

The Fall Frolic will be held Saturday, October 4, 2008 from 4pm – 8pm on Main Street at the Village at North Elm (located at the corner of N. Elm Street and Pisgah Church Road in Greensboro). The all inclusive tickets are $25.00 per person for advanced tickets and $30.00 at the event. Advance tickets may be purchased online at www.earlier.org. For event details please visit www.villageatnortheelm.com.

###